

Constitution Role Play: Whose ‘More Perfect Union’?
From the Zinn Education Project.

“The U.S. Constitution endorsed slavery and favored the interests of the owning classes. What kind of Constitution would have resulted from founders who were more representative of the entire country—including enslaved people, workers, and farmers? That is the premise of this role play activity.”

This activity is available for free from the Zinn Education Project. To download the lesson, visit <https://www.zinnedproject.org/materials/constitution-role-play/>